

ABSTRAK

Tesis ini mengkaji proses pembentukan karakter mandiri anak di Panti Asuhan Miftahul Jannah, termasuk faktor-faktor yang mendukung dan menghambat serta peran pengasuh dalam penanaman karakter tersebut. Metode penelitian kualitatif digunakan untuk memahami makna dan proses yang terjadi di lapangan melalui wawancara, observasi dan dokumentasi. Hasil penelitian ini, panti asuhan berperan penting dalam mendidik anak agar memiliki sikap mandiri melalui rutinitas harian yang terstruktur, termasuk belajar, berdoa, dan kegiatan kerajinan tangan. Dukungan pengasuh sangat krusial dalam membentuk karakter dan keterampilan mandiri anak, sehingga mereka dapat menghadapi tantangan hidup dengan baik. Tesis ini juga menggarisbawahi bagaimana stigma sosial dan pandangan masyarakat terhadap anak panti asuhan dapat mempengaruhi perkembangan karakter mereka dalam belajar ilmu agama. Dengan fokus pada pendidikan agama dan pembentukan nilai, Panti Asuhan Miftahul Jannah berkomitmen untuk membina generasi yang berkontribusi positif di masyarakat.

ABSTRAK

This thesis examines the process of character formation of independent children at Miftahul Jannah Orphanage, including supporting and inhibiting factors and the role of caregivers in instilling such character. Qualitative research methods are used to understand the meaning and processes that occur in the field through interviews, observations and documentation. The results of this study, orphanages play an important role in educating children to have an independent attitude through structured daily routines, including studying, praying, and handicraft activities. The support of caregivers is crucial in shaping children's character and independent skills, so that they can face life's challenges well. This thesis also emphasizes how social stigma and society's views of orphanage children can influence their character development in learning religious knowledge. With a focus on religious education and value formation, Miftahul Jannah Orphanage is committed to fostering a generation that contributes positively to society.
